COUNTRIES THAT OBSTRUCT FLOW OF TALENT WILL BE 'NET LOSERS': JAISHANKAR

HACK OF THE DAY PUT A LOCK ON YOUR WHATSAPP A/C WITH A PIN

WHAT IT SOLVES:

Adds an extra layer of security so no one can register your WhatsApp on another device without your six-digit PIN.

WHAT TO DO:

Enable WhatsApp's two-step verification and link a recovery email for easy resets.

STEPS:

Open WhatsApp → go to Settings → Account → Two-step verification → Turn on → set a six-digit PIN → add a recovery email → verify it.

To change the PIN: Settings → Account → Two-step verification → Change PIN.

To update or add an email: Settings → Account → Email address → add or edit → enter the code sent to your inbox.

To disable: Settings → Account → Two-step verification → Turn off.

CAREFUL: Without a recovery email, you'll wait 7 days to reset a forgotten PIN. Make sure the email you add is active and accessible.

Hacks are based on verified public sources. Readers are advised to follow official websites & updated rules

Golgappa that wouldn't let go: Locks UP woman's jaw

Lucknow: She reached for the golgappa the way countless people do. Opened her mouth wide, but it stayed open — her jaw snapped out of place. One bite at a roadside stall outside the district hospital in UP's Auraiya sent a 42-year-old woman to chaos on Saturday. Family members at first thought she was exaggerating the struggle to shut her mouth. That evaporated as her eyes welled with pain and she waved desperately for help. Realising something was wrong, they rushed her to the hospital. Doctors tried manually resetting the dislocated jaw but couldn't. After stabilising her, they transferred her to Ahilyabai Holkar Medical College. There, a team worked for nearly an hour before finally easing the jaw back into place. TNN

Cal HC reinstates 32k primary teachers axed by lower bench

Subrata Chattoraj | TNN

Kolkata: A Calcutta high court division bench on Wednesday decided against scrapping the recruitment of 32,000 teachers for state-run primary schools, setting aside an order of HC judge-turned-BJP MP Abhijit Ganguly.

Justice Ganguly had in 2023 cancelled the appointments, which were based on 2014 Teacher Eligibility Test (TET), on the grounds that the jobs were "actually sold". A higher bench granted a stay on the order.

The bench of justices Tapabrata Chakraborty and Reetobroto Mitra, acting on an appeal by the state govt against the single-judge bench's order, ruled on Wednesday, "The allegation of fraud and corruption pertaining to the entire recruitment process is not sustainable and the appointment of the 32,000 teachers cannot be interfered with."

The bench said it was setting aside Justice Ganguly's order because the "conclusion arrived at by the investigating authority (CBI) would not reveal that the appointed candidates were involved in any corrupt practices".

Cautioning courts against "innovating at pleasure", the bench observed, "Neither can they don the helmet of a 'knight-errant' roaming at will in pursuit of his own ideal of beauty or of goodness."

SC paves way for advocate to pay for son from 1st marriage

Dhananjay Mahapatra @timesofindia.com

New Delhi: Supreme Court on Wednesday came up with a unique solution to allow an advocate to pay for the maintenance of his son from his first marriage after the man expressed his inability to do so, citing his second marriage and limited income.

The court directed that the advocate be assigned two or three cases a month by Supreme Court Legal Services Committee — which provides free legal assistance to poor litigants — an assignment that would help him earn an extra Rs 10,000 every month.

The Muslim advocate had divorced his first wife with whom he had a son and married another woman with whom he had another child. The first wife moved SC, challenging the mode of execution of triple talaq and claimed maintenance for her child.

Appearing for the divorced woman, senior advocate Rizwan Ahmed told a bench led by Chief Justice Surya Kant that she is not contesting his second marriage, though the annulment of the first was illegal under Sharia law. "She is an educated woman. For the past 36 months, he has not paid a penny towards the maintenance of his son," Ahmed said.

When the bench asked the man to pay a monthly maintenance of Rs 10,000 in the interim for his son, the man, through senior advocate M R Shamshad, said he was working as a junior in a lawyer's chamber and gets just Rs 21,000 a month. "He has a wife and child. Paying Rs 10,000 towards maintenance of his son from the first marriage would ruin his household," Shamshad said.

Kant then asked Shamshad to send the advocate to Supreme Court Legal Services Committee.

Ahmed requested the SC to consider directing the man to pay a lump-sum amount for the 36 months he had paid nothing towards the maintenance of his son. The bench asked the advocate to consider the same and posted the matter for further hearing on Jan 21.

Wedding gifts to be handed over to Muslim woman on divorce: SC

AmitAnand.Choudhary @timesofindia.com

New Delhi: Noting that inherent patriarchal discrimination is still the order of the day, Supreme Court has said gifts given by parents not only to their daughter but to the bridegroom at the time of marriage have to be returned to her if the marriage ended in divorce.

Applying a provision of the Muslim Women (Protection of Rights on Divorce) Act, 1986, a bench of Justices Sanjay Karol and N K Singh quashed a Calcutta high court order, which had allowed a man to retain the gifts given by his father-in-law.

"The Constitution of India prescribes an aspiration for all, i.e. equality which is, obviously, yet to be achieved. Courts, in doing their bit to this end, must ground their reasoning in social justice adjudication. To put it in context, the scope and object of the 1986 Act is concerned with securing the dignity and financial protection of Muslim women post her divorce, which aligns with the rights of women under Article 21 of the Constitution," the bench said.

"The construction of this Act, therefore, must keep at the forefront equality, dignity and autonomy and must be done in the light of lived experiences of women where, particularly in smaller towns and rural areas, inherent patriarchal discrimination is still the order of the day," it said.

It added Section 3 of the Act grants right to a woman over all properties given to her before or at the time of marriage or after her marriage by her relatives or friends, or husband or his relatives or friends. "The section quoted above deals with mehr/dower and/or other properties given to a woman at the time of her marriage..." the bench said.

Green eco can draw in $4trn, create 48m jobs by '47: Study

TIMES NEWS NETWORK

New Delhi: India's green economy could attract $4.1 trillion (Rs 360 lakh crore) in cumulative investments and create 48 million (4.8 crore) 'full-time equivalent' (FTE) jobs by 2047, an independent study released by the Council on Energy, Environment and Water (CEEW) said.

The analysis also projects that India could unlock a $1.1 trillion (Rs 97.7 lakh crore) annual green market by 2047.

"This first-of-its-kind national assessment identifies 36 green value chains across energy transition, circular economy, bio-economy and nature-based solutions that together represent a defining green economic opportunity for India's journey towards 'Viksit Bharat' (developed India)," said the study released last week.

The CEEW on the occasion also launched Green Economy Council (GEC), a group chaired by former G20 sherpa and former Niti Aayog CEO Amitabh Kant to help India recognise and realise emerging green economic opportunities. Other members of the GEC include Prof. Ashok Jhunjhunwala of IIT Madras; Srivardhini K Jha of NSRCEL, IIM-Bangalore; and Arunabha Ghosh, CEO, CEEW.

INVESTMENT BOOM

"Pursuing a green economy will not just create jobs and economic prosperity, it will also help us secure the fuels and resources of the future, making us 'Atmanirbhar'," said Abhishek Jain, director, green economy and impact innovations, CEEW.

The analysis of the study showed energy transition alone could attract nearly $3.8 trillion in investments across renewables, storage, distributed energy and clean mobility manufacturing.

It underlined electric mobility would be the single-largest employer within the green economy, driving over 57% of all energy-transition jobs whereas bio-economy and nature-based solutions could create 23 million jobs.

Putin to begin India visit with private dinner hosted by Modi

New Delhi: Russian President Vladimir Putin will begin his first visit to India in four years with a private dinner that PM Narendra Modi will host for him on Thursday evening, shortly after his arrival. The leaders will discuss ways to shore up the special and privileged strategic partnership with a focus on economic ties, while also exchanging views on global and regional issues.

The PM is expected to reiterate India's position seeking an early end to the Russia-Ukraine war and return to dialogue and diplomacy. Putin, who will be on a state visit to India, had hosted Modi for a similar private dinner when the latter visited Russia last year for the annual summit.

Putin's main engagements are on Friday, starting with a visit to Raigadh in the morning that will be followed by a ceremonial welcome at Rashtrapati Bhawan. The leaders will then meet at Hyderabad House for the main summit. After a working lunch with Modi, Putin will participate in the India-Russia Business Forum. He will then head to the Rashtrapati Bhawan where President Droupadi Murmu will host a banquet for him.

Ahead of Putin's arrival, his aide Yuri Ushakov said that a Joint Statement is expected to be adopted and a number of bilateral documents will be signed in a wide range of areas, including the Program for the Development of Strategic Areas of Russian-Indian Economic Cooperation until 2030.

Modi had his last bilateral meeting with Putin on the margins of the SCO summit this year in Tianjin. The leaders have also spoken on phone five times this year.

"This visit is of high importance and provides an opportunity to discuss the extensive agenda of Russian-Indian relations comprehensively. In addition to the main talks with Narendra Modi, the programme includes a visit to the Russia-India Business Forum and participation in the launch ceremony of the RT TV channel in India," said Ushakov.

"It is planned that key aspects of trade and economic cooperation will be discussed in detail during the summit. In 2024, the bilateral trade turnover increased by 12%, up to $63.6 billion. We have many large-scale promising projects in various areas, including industrial cooperation, innovative technologies, transport, peaceful space exploration, mining, healthcare and labour migration programmes," he added.

Ushakov also said that both sides are strengthening cooperation in the spheres of politics and security, economy and finance, transport and logistics, science and technology, education and culture. "The leaders are also expected to exchange views on topical international issues, including cooperation in the UN, the SCO, the G20 and BRICS, taking into account India's chairmanship in the association in 2026," he added.

From Feb, all pan masala packages to have mandatory declarations

New Delhi: From Feb, all pan masala packages, irrespective of size or weight, will need to display the Retail Sale Price (RSP) and other mandatory declarations. This is being done for seamless enforcement of GST norms and ensure proper tax assessment and revenue collection across all packet sizes, including the smallest units.

The consumer affairs department made this mandatory by amending the Legal Metrology (Packaged Commodities) Rules, 2011, and issued a notification on Tuesday for its implementation. "From Feb 1, 2026, all manufacturers, packers and importers of pan masala must ensure full compliance," said an official. TNN

Rajnath stands by claim on Nehru's Babri plan Cong Terms It 'WhatsApp Univ Story'

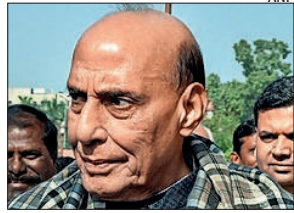

TIMES NEWS NETWORK

New Delhi: Defence minister Rajnath Singh on Wednesday stood by his statement that Pt Jawahar Lal Nehru had wanted to rebuild the Babri Mosque with public money, with his office issuing documentary evidence to support his claim, which was rebutted by Congress and other opposition parties.

Singh had made the claim while addressing a gathering at Sadhli village in Gujarat's Vadodra district on Tuesday. Responding to it, Congress leader Priyanka Gandhi Vadra said the claim was aimed at diverting attention from real issues that need to be discussed.

"Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel was truly secular... When Pt Jawaharlal Nehru spoke about spending govt funds on Babri Masjid, Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel opposed it. At that time, he did not allow the Babri Masjid to be built with government money. Nehru ji raised the question of reconstruction of the Somnath Temple... Sardar clarified that the Somnath Temple case was different; the public had donated Rs. 30 lakh there, a trust had been formed, and not even a single penny of government money was used. The Ram Mandir in Ayodhya has not been funded by government money. The entire cost has been borne by the people of this country," Singh said.

The defence minister drew the information from Inside Story of Sardar Patel (The diary of Maniben Patel 1936-50), a book authored by

Defence minister Rajnath Singh on the Parliament premises in New Delhi on Wednesday

Prabha Chopra.

Published in 2011 when Congress was in power, Nehru Memorial Library has a copy of the book.

It is based on the diary of Maniben Patel, the daughter of Sardar Patel. The senior BJP leader's office shared excerpts of the book to "validate" his claim.

The Congress, however, termed the defence minister's claim as a "lie" and "WhatsApp university story" and said Singh should not tread Prime Minister Narendra Modi's path.

"These are all distractions. There are many other real issues that need to be discussed. They create a new distraction every day so that we are unable to discuss the real issues of the people," Vadra told reporters.

Asked about the issue at a press conference, Congress' media and publicity department head Pawan Kherra said, "We would like to tell the defence minister -- 'aap toh aise na the' (you weren't like this). We can understand others, the PM is very learned, we can understand him making such statements... show us evidence."

Congress' whip in Lok Sabha Manickam Tagore said it is very surprising to see Rajnath Singh "running these kinds of fake news factories and WhatsApp university stories".
